Purchase / import / buying manager

About me

experienced and confident pc user, quick intuitive learner of new software, depending on my needs mastered and used various editing, modeling, recording and other programs (MS Office, Photoshop, Blender, Pro Tools, Cakewalk, Shotcut, 1C etc.);

impeccable knowledge of all hi-end interior product groups; talent for understanding the essence of an architect's project and translating it into product realities; consistently highly professional approach to core duties; resourcefulness in sourcing even monetarily minor products that added greatly to final result; conviction that it is ultimately beneficial to the final customer to prioritize, convey and protect the vision of both architect and manufacturer; visited all major and minor European interior trade shows; was invited to participate in trainings at the best interior product factories; enjoyed excellent professional and personal relationships with factories' top management, agencies, and always benefited from preferential treatment even from brands generally inaccessible to a small operator; during my time as a business owner was one of the most respected professionals in the field acknowledged for my true passion for the high style interior sector, intricate understanding of top brands' ideals, and coherent product policy born out of perfectionist pursuit of being able to work with the best industry had to offer.

respect facts and love words; skilled at forming complex semantic intervals; likably obsessive, constructively pedantic; well-spoken, well-travelled, able to easily build rapport with a broad spectrum of personalities; embody a rare combination of creativity and discipline; possess vision, tenacity and patience to finish even the most complex projects;

engaged in a lifelong hobby of being a singer-songwriter; music connoisseur; infatuated with English language pop culture (music, films, TV shows, books); enjoy casual fashion; started an entrepreneurial hobby of importing from England and selling Allsaints outerwear.
