Sales representative

Despre mine

Tenis

1 Strong group skills aimed towards respect, empathy, professionalism and community service which helped become a better communicator in many instances of life

2 analytical/problem solving skills with emphasis on logical deduction and inferences, enquiries.

Proof based logical argumentation in finding effective solutions for future clients

3. Artistic /creative mindset is essential in problem solving. Error and check is part of creativity in life, science and trade. I view error in sales as a proven way towards success and being able to cowork with the client is part of the job, and a big asset to my communication skill.

Adaptability is a valuable skill I learned in academic undergraduate circles. When I could not learn the material in a short period of time I had to search for new methods in acquiring the knowledge towards testing.
