Front-End Developer

About me

Frontend Developer with 6 months of hands-on experience in modern React/Next.js ecosystems.

Architected fullstack solutions, optimized performance, and engineered secure infrastructure, delivering measurable improvements in development speed, code quality, and system reliability.

Proven ability to integrate into agile teams, collaborate cross-functionally, and drive technical initiatives from concept to production. Focused on building scalable products with clean code, modern tools, and user-centric design.
