Financial Analyst

About me

I am a Finance Business Partner with over +8 years of experience in financial planning, budgeting, forecasting, and KPI analysis. My career spans roles in both corporate finance and project portfolio management, where I've consistently delivered insights that improved decision-making and business performance.

At Endava, I partner with senior leadership across multiple industries to drive budgeting, forecasting, and financial consultancy, using tools like Power BI, Oracle, and Excel to create impactful dashboards and financial models. My background also includes portfolio and project financial management, client advisory, and process optimization.

I am passionate about turning financial data into actionable strategies, improving operational efficiency, and supporting sustainable growth.
